

Imagine, 214 square miles of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains of New Mexico, ideal backpacking country.

Imagine, taking part in living history programs, learning all about mountain men, gold miners, Indians and the Old West.

Imagine, fishing for a mountain trout with a fly you tied yourself, rappelling down a sheer rock cliff, climbing a pole just like the lumberjacks of old, riding a western horse along a mountain trail, packing a burro, panning for gold.

Scout has always been an adventure and a challenge. At Philmont you will be put to the test.

Philmont's programs are not easy. You wouldn't want it any other way.

The expedition is a 12-day program with 10 days of hiking rugged mountain trails, carrying everything you need in your 35-pound pack, living on your Scouting skills.
